

Arts Insight is a national education charity providing first class musical theatre workshops and performing arts classes to young people up and down the country. We believe in the role of performing arts in improving children's development in essential life skills such as confidence, communication, teamwork, discipline and self-esteem. Our work is proven to be completely inclusive for children of any age, culture, physical and mental ability.

We offer up to 30 students from key stage 2 the opportunity to work with a professional director in weekly classes, which run from 3:30 – 4:30pm throughout the school year. The students will be taught fundamental aspects of performance art, exploring subjects such as mime, mask work, script work, devising, improvisation and audition techniques. At the end of each term the class will get the opportunity to showcase their work in front of the school, family and friends through shows specifically created and written for them, based on idea's that the students provide.

Classes run every Wednesday in the school hall at a cost of £4 per child per session.

If your child enjoyed the presentation led by myself (Laura Berridge) on Wednesday 14th September and thinks it is something they would like to be involved in, we will offering a free taster session on Wednesday 21st September. If they would then like to keep attending the classes, we ask that you pay for the half term in advance on that afternoon. This will secure their place for that half term. Payment will then be taken on the first lesson of every half term. Payments are non refundable.

If your child would like the chance to be part of these fun and dynamic on-going classes, please return your form to the office by Monday 19th September; we would hate anyone to miss out. Once the 30 places are taken, we will start a waiting list, we will contact you prior to the first session to inform you of our availability.

Best wishes,

Laura Berridge
